Don't Miss out. I'll be a Night to Remember

The Greater Los Angeles Chapter has reserved 30 seats for the Clint Black concert at the Cerritos Performing Arts Center for Wednesday, May 24, at 8:00 pm. Tickets are $54.00. ### And now some News from the Bylaws Committee...

Voting on Bylaws Proposals to Take Place at May Chapter Meeting There will be two Bylaws proposals presented for your consideration at the May Chapter Meeting. Voting on these proposals will also take place at this same meeting. Copies of the two proposals will be posted to the Yahoo Group at least 30 days before the May meeting.

The first proposal would move the Annual Meeting of Members to September and move the Elections for the Board of Directors to the July Chapter Meeting. The newly elected directors would be seated immediately following the Annual Meeting of Members. The intention is to give the newly elected directors some time to learn what is expected of them, plan for their administration, and be involved in the creation of the following year's rodeo budget.

The second proposal is a competing proposal. It would move the Annual Meeting of Members to November and move the Elections for the Board of Directors to the July Chapter Meeting. The newly elected directors would be seated immediately following the September Chapter Meeting. The intention here is the same as the first, but in addition it allows the newly elected directors to plan for and run the Annual Meeting of Members.

ROUNDTABLE MEETING

The next meetings will be held April 8th at Plummer Park, June 3 at LAEC, and July 9 at LAEC after the Chapter membership meetings.

Let's Saddle Up LA ...

The Life Group L.A. presents its first annual "Saddle Up L.A." An AIDS Benefit Horseback Trail Ride, which will be held Saturday June 3rd at The Los Angeles Equestrian Center.

If you don't have your own horse, not a problem, horses are being made available on a first come first served basis.

The purpose of the ride is to raise awareness of the fact that the AIDS Pandemic is not over and to raise much needed funds for the HIV services provided by The Life Group LA. It is also an affirmation of the power of compassion and a demonstration that ordinary people can accomplish extraordinary things.

Founded in 2005, The Life Group L.A. provides education, empowerment and support to persons infected and affected by HIV/AIDS that they may make informed choices regarding their healthcare and general well-being.

Using a variety of methodologies such as peer support groups, public medical forums and the POZ Life weekend seminar, the Life Group L.A. creates educational and empowering experiences in a safe, confidential and non-judgmental environment.

Saddle up L.A. will be a trail ride to remember! It will honor not only those who have died of AIDS but will honor those of us who Live on whether infected or affected by HIV.

For more information regarding Saddle Up L.A. or to register for the ride, please visit our website at: www.saddleupla.org or contact Sunnie Rose at 888-208-8081

Christy Cotton: The Saltwater Cowgirl

Breakaway roping is unique among rodeo events, offering the challenge of a horse, a human, a lasso, and a calf all in motion at one time. And, if executed well, it is an event that is over a few short moments after it begins. It is this brief interplay between cowgirl, critters and rope that is a favorite of Christy Cotton's, who one might easily assume was born into the world of competitive rodeo.

"Once I nod my head, my arm had better be swingin' that rope and my horse had better be coming out, because that calf is going as soon as the chute opens," Christy explains. "I need to be throwing my rope within two swings of when I come out...swing, swing, BOOM. It's all a matter of seconds."

A fixture on the gay rodeo circuit for over a decade, Christy has amassed a bewildering array of ribbons, event-championships belt buckles, and All-Around Cowgirl titles. But it wasn't until 1991, at the age of 33, that she attended her first rodeo - gay or otherwise - and, in an instant, she was fit to be tied. She had a new calling, and vowed to be a part of it in any way she could.

From Your President

All you have to do is look at the sheer volume of activities we've had in the past 3 months and you'll quickly conclude that 2006 is off to a great start for the Bay Area Chapter. Back in December the new board got together and began discussing ideas for the 2006 calendar. From this conversation emerged a vision for the year--by maintaining a steady pace of social and educational activities for our community throughout the year, we stand a better chance a building the kind of "contagious" community organization that we want to become.

Building a contagious organization requires creative thinking. By "thinking outside the box" and looking for a fresh spin on events that we produce, we stand a better chance of creating excitement and building interest. Doug Graff did this when he pitched the "free before 9 pm" idea for our Winter Ball back in January. Miss Patty Wagon did this when the idea of a traditional fundraiser was turned on it's head to become a game for all chapters to participate in at our "Past, Present, & Future" royalty show. And Brad Bruner did this when running with the idea for a "Chapter Night Out" at the PBR in February. Well done all!

Now, it's your turn. What new ideas do you have for building even greater community interest in our chapter? What kind of events or activities do you think we should all embrace? We encourage you to bring these ideas to our next chapter meeting or email anyone on the board. We've already shown that the year is off to a great start for the chapter... with your fresh ideas, we can prove that we've just begun.

Message from the President

By Glen Dickard

Rain, snow and the cold of the desert could not keep the cowboy or cowgirl from their school. Yes, that's right. Even with the unpleasant weather here in Palm Springs on March 11th, the Indio skies were even a cloudless-blue at times. So, the brave souls that bereaved the weather were able to enjoy an informative day at the GSGRA Rodeo School. All IGRA rodeo events were covered. Thanks go out to Jody Cap, CV Vaqueros and all the instructors for a job well done.

That evening we gathered at Sidewinders for an evening of fellowship and yes, even a raffle. The evening was filled with music, dancing and laughs. The Chapter had a good event and even made some money along the way.

March 19th Randy Davis had a Birthday Party at Sidewinders to benefit the Chapter. Chapter members were there selling cups for the beer bust. This gave us a chance to work a beer bust and plan a few more over the course of the year.

Early April will be a busy time for us. April 1st we will be having a yard sale. It's a good chance for members to get back into the closet and maybe even clean them out. Some of us will be in San Diego to attend the State meeting. Time to rest on Sunday. Monday April 3rd we are at Hamburger Mary's for a Bingo game. We have teamed up with Legendary Bingo out of Los Angeles. For $20 you can enjoy 11 games with the Fabulous Diva Belle Aire and Bingo Boy. To add to the fun, Ann Walker is going to join us. Ann played LaVonda in Sordid Lives. Playing Bingo with this team will give O-69 a whole new meaning. Miss Call-A-Bingo and Belle have their paddle ready. But that's not a bad thing, though I have seen some even pay to get paddled. Hey, it's for a good cause. Look for other dates, as we do plan to have a few more games with Legendary Bingo.

Looking to the future, you horse people get ready for a play day in late May. This time we will test your riding skills. Non-horse people, you will not be left out either. A cook out is also planned. More information will be coming very soon. Watch for emails.

The support we are getting for the community has lead us to new contacts for a place to have many kinds of events. The Villas and the Chapter will be teaming up for some events. In return, the Villas have extended all GSGRA members a 10% discount off the room rates.

Coming to town? Check them out.

Message from the Secretary

By Mike Warren

To continue with the rodeo school, we did have a good turnout. The weather fooled us all. With heavy rains and snow from Palm Springs westward, we thought we might be in trouble. But in Indio, we had just two light sprinkles throughout the day, not even enough to turn on your windshield wipers. The sun came out and everyone started shedding jackets and sweaters. It was a welcomed weather change for our event.

We had visitors from the San Francisco Bay Area, Los Angeles, and San Diego as well as from as far away as Minnesota. Everybody had a great time and the CV Vaqueros arena was well suited for what we needed to do and we were also invited back for future events.

We signed up several new members at the event and collected email addresses from several who were either checking us out and were considering joining or supporting us in the future.

The registration for the events went on without a hitch, handled by Daryl Sweetwater, Walt Seiler, Ed Thompson and Keith Wiley.

We had several attendees with cameras, so pictures will be online and also collected for a photo album to show at rodeo events in the future.

If you were not able to make it or feared the great weather we had, you missed a terrific Chapter experience.

Horsh-U

By Mike Warren

Standardbred

Breed Description:

The Standardbred is perhaps best known in the sport of harness racing. In harness racing, Standardbred racing is contested on two gaits, the trot and the pace. Trotters move with a diagonal gait; the left front and right rear legs move in unison, as do the right front and left rear. It requires much skill by the trainer to get a trotter to move perfectly at high speeds, even though the trotting gait is a natural one in the animal world.

Pacers, on the other hand, move the legs on one side of their body in tandem: left front and rear, and right front and rear. This action shows why pacers are often called "side-wheelers." Pacers, which account for about 80 percent of the performers in harness racing and are the faster of the two gaits, are aided in maintaining their gait by plastic loops called hobbles, which keep their legs moving in synchronization. Pacing is a natural gait.

Average Height: 15 hands

Colors: Bay, black, brown, chestnut, gray, roan

Conformation:

In many respects, the Standardbred resembles the Thoroughbred. However, it is often more muscled and longer in body, and does not stand as tall, averaging between 15 and 16 hands. The head is bigger and may sport a Roman nose.

Standardbreds tend to have a higher neck set that other light horse breeds, somewhat similar to the Morgan.

Temperament:

Standardbreds are intelligent, willing, and have an excellent work ethic. They are laid back and calm in nature, though they do enjoy competing.

Members of this breed often excel in the following disciplines:

- Harness racing
- Versatility

- Huntseat or dressage

Breed History:

The origins of the Standardbred trace back to Messenger, an English Thoroughbred foaled in 1780, and later exported to the United States. Messenger was the great-grand sire of Hambletonian 10, to whom every Standardbred can trace its heritage. Standardbreds are a relatively new breed, dating back just over 200 years, but it is a true American breed. The name "Standardbred" originated because the early trotters (pacers would not come into the picture until much later) were required to reach a certain standard for the mile distance in order to be registered as part of the new breed. The mile is still the standard distance covered in nearly every harness race. Standardbred racing has long been known as the sport of the people, and both the sport and the breed are as much a part of our American landscape as cowboys and apple pie. As it evolved it gave the United States some of its first "sports heroes," including the great Dan Patch, the legendary Adios and the great gray ghost, Greyhound.

MR PREZ SPEAKS.....

Howdy,

It's just about rodeo time in California! In fact, before you read the next issue of the Chute it will be rodeo time. Personally, I'm very excited about the rebirth of rodeo in San Diego and can't wait to be there at the end of April for the big event. I know it's going to be a great weekend.

I didn't get a letter out for February, so need to take a moment to congratulate Elizabeth and

Stephen on their new titles. I was with Elizabeth In Fort Worth for their rodeo and she did a fantastic job and represented us really well. If you haven't caught her on stage yet, make sure you do in San Diego.

I also wanted to congratulate the new executive committee members; Travis, Tony, Chris and Corey. Thanks to you in advance for everything you'll be doing this year.

There are still several committee chair positions open so if you're interested and would like to get involved please drop me a note.

Have a great spring and see you at the rodeo!

Jabby
