Wild and Woolly Wodeo Charlie's Saturday, February 21

Once again we came together to raise money for NGRA and the BigHorn Rodeo. This time we celebrated with wacky wodeo games organized, if such a word can be used, by Norma Llyaman.

This was steer decorating as you have never seen it before. Well you've never seen a steer like this either. Two grapefruits in a pair of panty hose tied round the "Steer's" waist gave a good target for the blindfolded cowboy to aim for with his ribbon

"#####s as big as grapefruits, sure I've never seen before"

"Oh, what a beauty, I've never seen one as big as it before!"

No goat in an arena has ever faced having to wear the vast array of apparel that Norma demanded. Teams of two contestant's blindfolded and carrying armfuls of clothing including wigs, dresses, scarves and boas chased volunteer "goats" around the dance floor. Once they caught a "goat" they had to dress it.

"The Dressers"

"The Goats"

The winners of both games won a weekend pass for two to BigHorn Rodeo 2015.

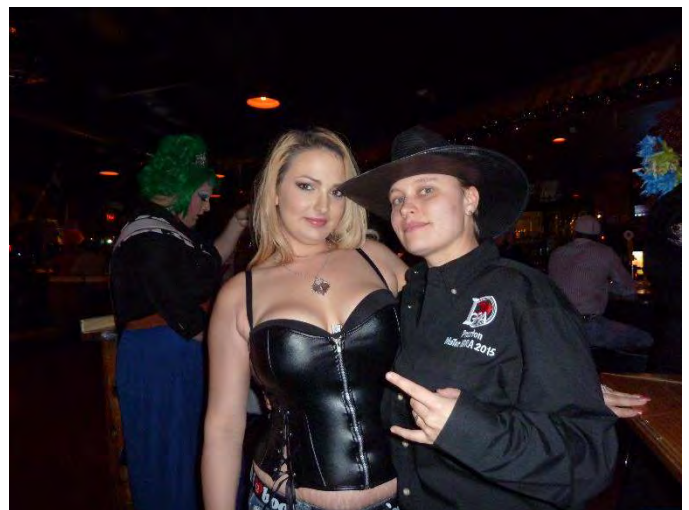

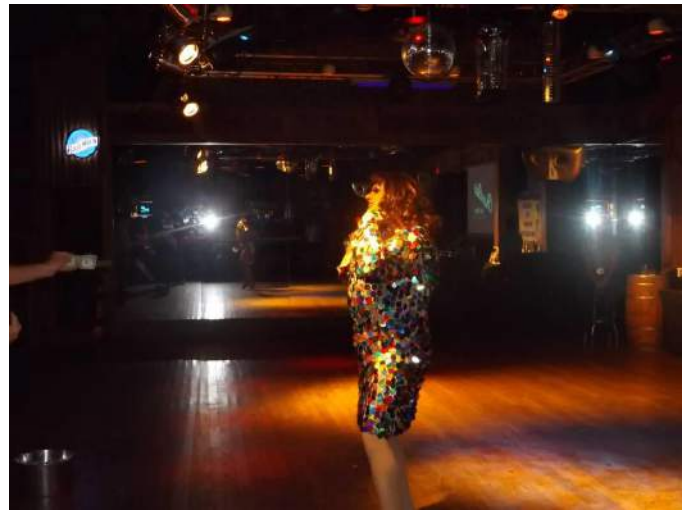

The current Miss Cow Patty, Phat Patty, aka Chris Saunders and her partner, Jason Dyer, did a wonderful job of persuading punters to purchase a playing card for $5. Every face card was a winner with aces getting a star prize. What a great array of prizes.

Not only did Jason and Phat Patty sell the playing cards but both performed as only they can joining an amazing cast gathered for the night by Mr NGRA, Dawg.

Ken Hruby once again manned the beer bust and welcomed people into our event.

Stephan Shuppert and Vic Raquel toured around the bar selling tootsie pop shots.

Happy Birthday Joseph Gurican

What else can you expect on your birthday from Norma?

Overall we made a total of over $760 for our funds. I must thank everyone who worked to make this a successful night: Norma; Dawg, all the entertainers and helpers as well as the bar staff who look after us so well.

Don't forget the fun and games continue on March 14th for our annual Cow Patty Contest. Make sure you check out the contestants or, better, yet, compete yourself and show us how it's done. We shall have edible "cow patties" for sale, some with a hidden number for a grand prize, as well as the contest itself.

Food at Fundraisers

Ever felt hungry at Charlie's during a NGRA fundraiser?

Food for sale at all our Charlie's based fundraisers from our Closet Ball contest on April 11th for the rest of the year.

Every meal bought means a donation to NGRA

Editor's Bits and Pieces

The top bull in the herd had three sons. Recognising that his sons were approaching maturity, the top bull asked his sons what each one of them envisaged as a future.

The first sons replied: "I want to be a bull in the rodeo".

The second son replied: "I want to be a bull in a china shop".

The third son replied: "I just want to stay here for heifer and heifer and heifer".

Fundraising

Well yet again we had a great night at Charlie's on February 21st. The event was a week later than usual to allow so many of us to be at the Phoenix rodeo the weekend before. I must thank everyone who helped out so willingly.

Yes I did buy a playing card, yes I drew an Ace and what did I win? A weekend pass for two to Bighorn Rodeo 2015! Well as Volunteer Coordinator as well I guess I've got that anyway.

But now our attention changes to focus on the next events. Miss Cow Patty on March 14th and Closet Ball on April 11th as well as the Yard Sale on March 28th.

If you feel you are overflowing with cow pattiness, sign up now to enter the contest and maybe wear the striking sash. The evening will be full of activity with delicious cow patties for sale. Some patties will have a winning number concealed in their wrapping and you can see from the write ups of previous events how enviable our prizes are. There will be real shots for sale as well as our beer bust. And, if enough money is forthcoming to persuade the current title holder, Phat Patty to go ahead, the highlight of the evening should be when the newly crowned Miss Cow Patty gets the chance to fling a soft and squidgy cow patty into Phat Patty's face. You've got to be there to see that.

We are also looking for contestants for our Closet Ball event on April 11th. In this contest participants who do not normally perform in the guise of the opposite sex will be given 1 hour to be transformed with the help of a mentor and then perform for the judges and the audience. Again there will be prizes to be won, shots to buy and a beer bust.

Contact me if you are interested in competing in either pageant.

If you are looking for somewhere to spend the night on March 7th remember the proceeds from the Men of Charlie's competition for March benefits NGRA. Go along and support your favorite man and NGRA as well. Or maybe you can be a Man of Charlie's yourself.

If you want to support NGRA but are not a bar person we have two ways in which you can do that. Get rid of your unwanted goodies and buy wonderful stuff others have donated at our President's Yard Sale on March 28th.

Finally we have designed a range of tokens for you to buy for display at Rodeo. Whilst many people may wish to sponsor NGRA and rodeo, the full price of a buckle may be too much. Therefore we have to set up the "Friends of NGRA and BigHorn Rodeo" to sponsor for smaller amounts. We have produced tokens which will sell for $5, $10 and $20. You can sign these tokens adding a dedication if you wish. Once signed they will be displayed 'en masse' on a wall of recognition at BigHorn Rodeo. Look out for volunteers selling these around town. If you think you can sell some please contact me

$20

I would like to thank Bill Watkins for producing the tokens for me.

So buy a token and demonstrate your support. Or go on line to:

From Your Volunteer Coordinator

Well, offers of help with BigHorn Rodeo are coming in from as far as Boise, Idaho so have you stepped up yet. The form is on the NGRA website. Here is the link

<http://ngra.com/index.php/bighornrodeo/volunteer/volunteer-form>

Completed volunteer forms are starting to arrive in my mail. Thanks to those who have already completed theirs.

Taking advantage of working the front gate in Phoenix and signing in all their volunteers, I placed a volunteer sign-up sheet for BigHorn on the table and managed to persuade some of the volunteers there to sign up.

Many thanks to the Court for offering to sell drinks tickets again and to the Las Vegas Boys of Leather for taking on access control to keep our spectators safe. Also thanks to the Men of Charlie's for running contestant registration on Friday night.

We shall be having one of my famous get-togethers in March so sign up now for an invitation. Many folk who volunteered last year have said they plan to help again. Just make sure I know you wish to be included. Again, if you have volunteered before and none of your details have changed you need not fill in the whole form but just let me know when you would like to work and what you would like to do.

If your contact details have changed or you have a friend or colleague who would like to come along here is a link to the form.

<http://www.ngra.com/index.php/bighornrodeo/volunteer/volunteer-form>

So if you want to be part of a fun team, see rodeo close up and for free get in touch.

Thanks again for all your help.

Rodeo Director for BigHorn 2015

As of this writing (Sunday, February 22), it is 74 days, 23 hours and 33 minutes until BigHorn Rodeo is here. Many hours of sitting at the computer writing letters to potential sponsors, working out deals with vendors, procuring golf carts, toilets, hay, stock, radios, ice and so much more. Writing letters to officials and setting up hotel rooms. This and so much more are what it takes to run a rodeo.

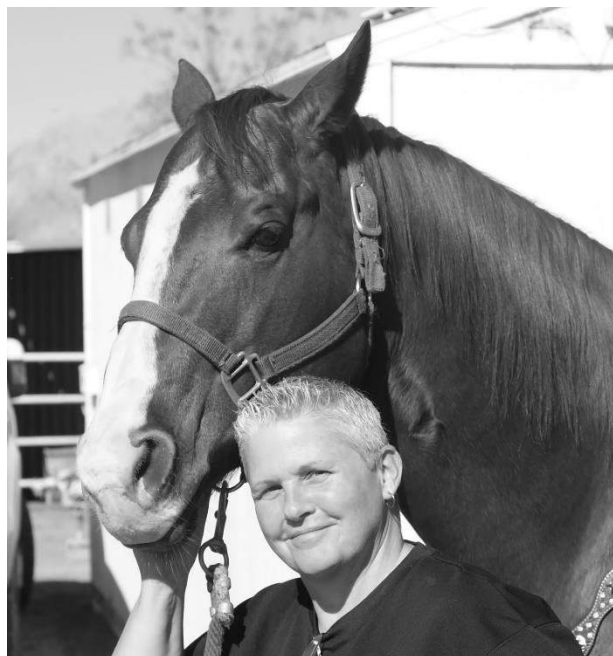

The most important element you could have is passion, passion for this crazy thing called rodeo. I love it, deep down to my core. I love the people and the action associated with rodeo. I love when the stock truck pulls up and starts releasing the animals. The sound of a nicker from a horse, the bellow of a bull and yes, even the bleat of a goat. It's at that moment that I know it's time to rodeo!

During the next 74 days, we as a team may ask you if you want to sponsor a buckle or maybe even volunteer your time, don't be afraid, I was asked once too, 24 years ago, and look at me now.

I am so grateful for this amazing group of people. Ken Hruby, our Assistant Rodeo Director and someone I have really grown quite fond of as a person, I could not be happier that you're by my side. Our Rodeo Planning Team, this next 74 days will be like a blink of an eye. Let's make this not only a great rodeo, but let's make the next 74 days the best ever.
