NGRA Retreat — Saturday, August 27th, 10:30 am

Please read this article and then email your submissions to NGRA_Retreat@cox.net.

It's official. We have come up with a date for the NGRA Retreat. The retreat will take place on Saturday, August 27th, at 10:30 am, inside the "Drop-in Room" of The Center. For those of you who aren't aware of the "Drop-in Room", it's immediately behind the Bronze Café and has couches and chairs, for a more relaxed atmosphere.

I still need your ideas, regarding what needs to be discussed. I'm asking for inputs that fit into 1 of 3 categories:

- Things NGRA needs to Start Doing;
- Things NGRA needs to Stop Doing, and
- Things NGRA needs to do differently.

When you submit your replies, please identify which of the three categories, your idea falls into as well as a brief explanation, regarding why you feel the way you do.

Once I get all the topics sent to me, I'll consolidate similar thoughts and will try to put together a few notes to help us discuss the submissions. No serious submission will be ignored and I will try to consolidate the submissions into topics of discussion, rather than reading individual emails.

Please send all of your topics to NGRA_Retreat@cox.net. I promise you complete anonymity, as I'm the only one who knows the password to this email account. Feel free to submit whatever you'd like, just please keep them serious. Finally, I really hope that everybody reading this will submit their ideas. I understand that not everybody can make the meetings but this is your chance to help make NGRA as great as we all want it to be.

From your Vice President

The annual Rocky Mountain Regional Rodeo was held in Colorado over the weekend of July 9th & 10th where NGRA was represented by three contestants. In the Women's Barrel Racing, Courtney placed 2nd on the first go with Stephanie just being edged out of 5th place and placing 6th. On Sunday, Stephanie and her horse Lena had a little slip causing her to go long, but still placing 5th. Courtney and her mare China laid down a smoking 18.35 seconds, the fastest run of the weekend and over ½ second faster than her closest competitor! Way to go Courtney and China! In Women's Pole Bending, Courtney and China placed 8th and 3rd and has effectively punched her ticket to the WGRF in October!

Yes... NGRA has real Cowgirls! Stephanie & Lena (above) Lena recovered from this slip to place 5th in the go round.

Congratulations to the rodeo contestants and officials from NGRA that spent their weekend in Colorado for the RMRR! NGRA had a great showing with one of our own bringing home some metal! Congratulations to Courtney and China on another barrel-racing buckle. This team is going to be a force to be reckoned with at the WGRF. Stay tuned for more to come with our contestants.

Make sure you check out the multitude of shows and fundraiser being put on monthly. Our Fundraising Committee is constantly hard at work to keep this organization going. Please support them when you can.

We are still in talks to get Bighorn Rodeo back on the calendar in 2017. As you may have already heard, Las Vegas was not successful in keeping the WGRF at the South Point in 2017. The WGRF was awarded to Albuquerque, NM for 2017. If you or any one you know is interested in helping NGRA put on Bighorn Rodeo in 2017, please make sure to email me if you are interested in helping.

As always, keep your head up and look where you are riding!

From Your Royalty

The ramblings and randomness of Phil “Wolfy” Lombardi

Seriously, this Mr has been lacking in this aspect. The past few months have definitely been flying by and I never seem to realize when one month ends and another begins. So, here is my first Article, finally, to say the least. That real life thing always seems to get in the way and it's been quite fun in a medication haze the past few days.

Since stepping up in November, I have been on a whirlwind adventure as your current Mr NGRA. From all the events here in Las Vegas, Houston, Dallas and Los Angeles. Working with NGRA, the Imperial Court, the LA Leather Scene and TGRA Texas Tradition Rodeo. I still remember Competition Night, having my parents in town, my Pups there to support and all my friends in attendance. Also stepping up with Traci, yes she drives me crazy but could not ask for a better Sash Wife!

The events and the shows, being thrown on that stage and hosting and just falling on my face. Thanks to everyone for being there to support me and make that first one go smoothly, and have just been getting better from there. In February, due to the real life, sadly missed AGRA, but did get to make it to The Mr Pistons Leather Contest and represent our Organization and Rodeo in Los Angeles. Met some great new people and felt great representing our State and City, and introducing many of them to the Gay Rodeo Circuit. Then finally came time for May.

Vacation and attending my first official Rodeo. Started my adventure arriving in Houston, and traveling from there to Dallas with my Pups. Sightseeing and exploring a new city. Of course, it was time for Rodeo, and using the skills and many notes that Taylor has drilled into my head over the past months. Seriously, it haunts me in my dreams at times. I got to represent and meet so many fellow titleholders from across the country. And of course my Rodeo job was Security. Thanks for that. Spent that day, chatting it up, meeting so many people, promoting Big Horn and Finals and actually getting to sit and watch Rodeo events for the first time. Thanks to our Ms IGRA, Mary Honeycutt, for all hospitality that day. The day went quickly into that night and the Royalty Show at the Hidden Door in Dallas. Getting to be me and show them what Las Vegas performers have to show, and of course just have some fun with new and old friends. That next week was all mine to not be here and of course be outside of the casino. Still was odd not hearing slot machines. That following weekend, while attending a NLA Houston event at the Ripcord, pulled out the sash and once again being the Mr most of you know.

Upon My return to Las Vegas, I had my first solo event at Flex, The Unexpected, which benefitted the Sin City Sisters. So many performers stepped up that night, from Karaoke Singers to Belly and Arab Dancers. My co-host, Nikita LaFemme, stepped up and helped me rule the night and keep the crowd laughing, drinking and of course tipping. We raised $600 with everyone's help that night. Since that night, there has been so much craziness and events. NGRA events, Court Shows, Birthdays and of course the Bears got married recently. So yeah, while the fog is lifted, I want to say Thank You to everyone that has been there and will be there. Let's continue these memories and all these great times and make many more!

My second show, "Whatever Happens...", as Mr. NGRA and also my birthday event, will take place on Saturday September 3rd at Flex Cocktail Lounge. It will be co-hosted once again by the amazing Nikita LaFemme, my fellow Virgo who is also celebrating her Birthday. Once again benefiting the Sin City Sisters. I am the King of Technical Difficulties and run the gambit as most have seen. So you never know what can happen. Performers from all spectrums, raffles, drink and shot specials. Putting this out now, and more details to come.

Changes at Charlie's Las Vegas

Recently, NGRA was informed that Charlie's Las Vegas is making changes to their entertainment format and line-up. Those changes will affect every fundraising organization, in Las Vegas, including NGRA. I want to be clear here — these changes are not targeting NGRA — according to Charlie's management, these changes will impact everybody -- the Imperial Royal Sovereign Court of the Desert Empire (The Court), Sin City Sisters, Men of Charlie's and yes — NGRA.

Starting in October, Charlie's is — for the most part — doing away with Saturday evening fundraising events. With the recent closing of some of Las Vegas' Gay Clubs, Charlie's is in a unique position to change up the format, provide a much needed service to the local community and yes, increase their profit margin, at the same time.

Charlie's isn't completely doing away with Saturday evening events though. These changes will not affect Cow Patty, Closet Ball, or NGRA's Annual Royalty Competition (which, by the way, is scheduled for Saturday, November 26th, at Charlie's).

Finally, I'm proud to announce that these changes will include a new event. Starting in the near future, NGRA will be hosting Thursday Nights at Charlie's. The night will include Charlie's weekly dance lessons, as well as games, drink specials, and raffles. I don't have the exact start date yet but please, be on the lookout. Thursday Nights, at Charlie's, are going to be a lot of fun and you won't want to miss it.

NGRA and Charlie's have a long history together and nothing is going to change that. Things are changing at Charlie's but that's not a bad thing. NGRA is proud to have Charlie's Las Vegas as a partner and we look forward to many more years of fun, camaraderie, and mutual support.

From Your Volunteer Coordinator

As I said in my piece last month Las Vegas hosts the IGRA World Finals. Running from October 20th to 23rd These will again be held in the South Point Hotel and Casino. More details are available in later pages of the Newsletter, but put these dates in your diary.

If you wish to volunteer for this event, please go to:

<http://www.igra-wgrf.com/index.php/rodeo/volunteer>

and fill in the online application form.

Many of you will also know that this is also the Pride weekend. Your help is needed in building the NGRA float for the Pride Parade. We have a great base to build on using last year's float. Design Meetings will start this month so look out for dates and locations. If you are not a natural DIY person don't worry. We can use all your talents, practical and artistic, to produce a float to surpass last year's wonderful effort. Matt Todd will again be leading the construction effort. (And I shall probably be making chili again.)

If you wish to volunteer to help construct the float, please contact:

volunteers@ngra.com

As it is the same weekend as Finals we shall not be volunteering at the Pride Festival. This will leave us all free to give our full support to Finals.

Trustee's News

President Bruce Gros

LSGRA decided not to renew its membership with IGRA so it can focus on building its association locally without the financial obligations IGRA membership requires.

While associations begin looking at changes to make at IGRA Convention this year, Bruce would also like us to look at ways to improve our association, our rodeos, and participation.

Vice President Jason Bernard

All members of the IGRA Royalty Team have met their minimum fundraising requirements.

Secretary Ron Trusley

Nominations for the International and Trustees awards were received and ballots will be distributed.

WGRF Committee

Room nights are about 120 less than this time last year, which is a concern. People are encouraged to book early as they can always be canceled later if necessary.

Sponsorship is currently $37,000, which is close to last year's total.

Robert Thurtell expressed concern that there was minimal trustee presence at WGRF last year. Also, he emphasized that this is ALL of our finals and we should become stakeholders at the individual and association levels.

The Committee recommended Horseman's Park for WGRF 2017 but Board rejected their recommendation. The Committee brought back a second site of Albuquerque, which was approved by the BOD.

Miscellaneous

September 19th is the 60-day deadline for Convention proposals.

The Smithsonian has expressed interest in placing the most significant items from the IGRA archives and the history of gay rodeo.

John Hill would like associations to share event information, etc. to cgrajohn@gmail.com and he will share the information on the IGRA social media platforms.

The 2017 IGRA BOD meetings will be held in January, April, August, and at IGRA Convention in Las Vegas, Little Rock, Santa Fe, and wherever Convention is held, respectively.

Associations are strongly encouraged to present proposals at the 2016 IGRA Convention for the location in 2018. DSRA is prepared to present a bid, which appears very financially viable.

The 2018 IGRA University will be held in OKC at the Habana Complex.

NMGRA is experimenting with a new format to include partial performances on Friday and Saturday nights in addition to Saturday and Sunday during the day. For more information, visit their website.
