Men of Charlie's: Man of the Month Contest Charlie's Saturday, October 7th

October 7th saw The Men of Charlie's contest happen once again. For those that don't know, the Men of Charlie's program began in December 1985 with the idea of printing a calendar. Originally, each man was chosen by audience applause. In 1987, Charlie's of Phoenix, added the contest, and the program was changed to a community supported fundraising event. In 1993, with the opening of Charlie's Chicago, the tradition was continued and still holds true with the newest bar in Las Vegas.

Each location continues to be committed to raising money for non-profit organizations within their community. They do this through the Man of the Month contest held each month and donating their time to organizations such as the Sin City Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence, the NGRA – Nevada Gay Rodeo Association, the Gay & Lesbian Community Center of Southern Nevada and the Saint Therese Center HIV Outreach.

Any man over the age of 21 can run for the Man of Charlie's. This tradition now holds over 250 members in the four locations and has given over $1,000,000 back to the community.

On this occasion the event benefitted NGRA BigHorn Rodeo. The contestants were introduced by Jason Ramirez, the local coordinator and vied for the honor of becoming a Man of Charlie's. by collecting money from patrons throughout the night. The contestant collecting the most being made the Man of Charlie's for October 2017. The contestants raised $347.13 and Michael Scott Farner was declared Man of Charlie's for October 2017.

Trustee's News

We still need one Delegate to represent NGRA at the IGRA Convention in Little Rock, Arkansas on November 10th – 12th. If you need more information on duties or would like to volunteer, please contact me.

Besides our three Royalty contestants that competed at Finals for spots on the IGRA Royalty Team, three other NGRA members worked at Finals. Laura Scott was our Alternate Trustee and David Hering and Andrew Goodman ran the Financial Office. In addition, Andrew was one of the Judges for the Entertainment portion of the Royalty Competition.

Director - David Wright

Well, our BIGHORN Rodeo Director Chris Due set the ball rolling. Chris subsequently resigned whereupon Brenda Lee Luce-Alday and her wife Kathy, together with Jeffrey Neal, did the impossible. With such a very late start they pulled off a fantastic Rodeo for us. A lot of us had our doubts that it could be done, but Brenda and her whole team did it. And had a nice net income to distribute to our charities this year. And they did it without charging an entrance fee for the spectators. Unheard of! And better yet, Brenda wants to be Rodeo Director for 2018 and Kathy has not considered a divorce. How's that for stick-to-it-ness.

Our year is coming rapidly to a close. Our Royalty Team competed for the IGRA Royalty Team. Phat Patty got Miss IGRA 2nd Runner up.

Our Royalty Team this year was also top notch with Phat Patty and her husband Jason Dryer, and B-Bear leading the way. Their fundraisers were fun, fast paced, entertaining and financially very successful. Congratulations to you all.

In November we once again have our NGRA Royalty Competition and elections for our Board of Directors, both very important to keep our NGRA operating on an even higher level this up-coming year. So, attend the competition and also vote for your Board.

(ps. I'm also running for election for Director of the Board. You spell my last name W_R_I_G_H_T.

Historian's Update

"Should I wear my jeans inside or outside of my boots?"

This is a question I get a lot working at Boot Barn and one that I have asked since adopting the Western Lifestyle. And here are some of the things I have learned about that. Now I haven't done any formal research on this, but these are some of the explanations I have run across.

First of all, it seems to be a regional thing, at least now. Around here we wear them outside the boot, but I have seen a lot of cowboys from Montana, Idaho and Wyoming who seem to prefer them inside the boot.

Inside the boot seems reasonable as so much work has gone into fancy stitching and leather inlays on the shaft of the boot that it seems a shame not to show it off. I have also heard that this was a way in which old time ranchers would advertise their wealth. For example, if he had 1,000 cattle or so, he would wear one leg tucked in and if he perhaps had more that say 3,000 he would wear both legs tucked in. Now I have also heard that ranchers don't want folks to know how much they have so they do neither. Another argument was that it was easier to clean mud and yuck off the leather shaft than off the legs of your jeans.

Now wearing the jeans on the outside of the boot has a very practical aspect to it. While riding the range you don't want dust, dirt and rain getting on your boots and while riding through shrubbery and tall grass you don't want bugs and burrs having access to your feet making life very uncomfortable till you get the chance to empty your boots. But then why pay for all the fancy work.

I've come to the conclusion that both ways are fine. If you want to show off your boots, tuck your jeans in, and if you're out working leave your jeans out.

However, at the last Bighorn Rodeo I came across one seasoned cowpoke who had the inside half of his jeans tucked in and the outside left out. When I questioned him why, his response was, "I don't know, we just always wore them that way".

So, there you have it, the choice is yours. Just remember that the "King of The Cowboys" always had his jeans tucked in. At least in all his movies and TV shows.
